BOTHELL GAVEL CLUB OF FUTURE LEADERS (BGCFL)

Club Culture

Following similar Toastmasters club meeting protocols, the Club provides a supportive and positive learning experience in which members are empowered to develop leadership, public speaking, and critical thinking skills, resulting in greater self-confidence and personal growth.

What is the value of these clubs for the kids?

- A. It trains these young people to NOT be like most Americans who say that they would rather get divorced or die, than to have to get up in front of a group of people and speak. These kids are getting early exposure in learning how to control their nerves in these situations. That is arguably the most important reason to have these clubs.
- B. This means that they will almost certainly do better than their peers when speaking to prospective colleges. They will also be able to participate in class discussions, and even challenge their teachers/professors in class with confidence. When they do finish college and have to get a job—they will know how to handle the situation. The kids cannot predict these situations—but the parents surely remember their own fear and trembling. These kids will be cool as a cucumber throughout their whole lives. And more than that, have the confidence to speak their unique views, knowing they have value.
- C. This is not just a club or sport. Toastmasters almost guarantees life-long ease of interpersonal communication.
It is like this is a vaccine against fear of public speaking.
- D. The member develops ability to LISTEN to other people—to help them. It helps them to not be so self-absorbed.
- E. The member learns how to handle responsibility, how to be part of a club that exists for the betterment of each person and requires working in concert with other people—whom they may or may not even like.

Volunteer Opportunities

- Gavel Clubs organize contests, where we request parents to volunteer for different roles – Timer, Sergeant At Arms.
- If you are a Toastmaster yourself, we would like you to provide coaching to our members, so members get a different perspectives and ideas of Public Speaking.

Introducing the Toastmaster Manuals

The two manuals (Competent Communicator & Competent Leadership) work together. Write your name on the cover of your manuals so they'll be easily identified. We all have the same manuals, so they can be easily confused.

Competent Communicator (CC) Manual

There are 10 speeches, or projects. Each focus on something specific and explains how to do it.

1. The Ice Breaker speech is first, and it's about you. Pick 1 or 2 aspects of your life to talk about, rather than squeeze your entire life into a few minutes.
2. Before the meeting, give your manual to your evaluator.
3. When you finish a project, write the date in the Project Completion Record on page 86. This way, you'll know what you have left to do.
4. If you give 1 speech a month, you will complete the CC manual in 10 months.

Competent Leadership (CL) Manual

Each project helps you learn a particular leadership skill as you take a role.

1. You get credit for every role in a meeting. You can read about each role in the CC manual (page 67 to 75). Practice what you are going to briefly say when your role is introduced.
2. You do not need to do the projects in order.
3. Before the meeting, decide which project you want your role to apply to, and mark that page.
4. When you finish a role, write the date in the Project Completion Record which is on the last page. This way, you will know what you have left to do.
5. Gavel club members do not have to complete projects 6, 8, 9 and 10.
